

Saving Is Simple With SEMCO.

SEMCO's Energy Waste Reduction Program offers a variety of rebates and services to help you use less and save more—comfortably.

No-Cost Home Energy Assessment

Rather than focusing on a single problem like an old heating and water system, not enough insulation in the attic, or leaky windows, a Home Energy Assessment (HEA) looks for opportunities throughout an entire home to improve performance.

Schedule Your HEA Now

If you are a SEMCO ENERGY Gas Company residential customer using natural gas heat, visit semcoewr.com or call 855.298.5387 to schedule your assessment today.

What to Expect

On the day of the HEA an expert technician will walk through your home looking for areas in which it is losing or wasting energy. The technician may use special diagnostic tools, such as a blower door test, to determine the airtightness of your home. This test can help locate leakage sites and other trouble areas.

After the technician has gathered data from the walk-through, a customized report is developed and provided to you. After you receive the report, you decide what you fix and when

Here's one example of how your savings could stack up:

98 AFUE furnace:
$500 rebate + $192 annual cost savings*

Wi-Fi programmable thermostat:
$100 rebate + $60 annual cost savings*

Total first-year savings: $852

*Estimated bill savings are calculated using an average of the energy savings obtained from the Michigan Energy Measures Database (MEMD), and 2020 SEMCO ENERGY Gas Company rates.

Actual annual savings may differ from the estimated amount.

The Report Highlights:

- How the home uses and loses energy.
- Recommendations for energy efficiency improvements.
- Opportunities to take advantage of utility rebates.

Keep in Mind

Fixing issues outlined in a HEA report often leads to:

- Lower energy use.
- Moisture condensation prevention.
- Reduced drafts and increased comfort.
- Improved indoor air quality and safety.
